

Orthopaedic Specialty Group, P.C. Named Team Physicians for Bridgeport Bluefish

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (May 6, 2009) – Orthopaedic Specialty Group, P.C. has been named team physicians for the Bridgeport Bluefish of the Atlantic League of Professional Baseball Clubs.

Orthopaedic Specialty Group physicians and staff treat patients throughout southern Connecticut for injuries and disorders of muscles and joints. Its offices are located in Fairfield, Stratford, and Shelton.

Dr. Patrick Kwok will head the team of physicians overseeing the care of the Bluefish. This care will entail conducting preseason physical examinations, attending and providing medical care for each home game, and evaluating and treating aches and pains that require nonsurgical care or surgery.

Dr. Kwok specializes in sports medicine. In addition to his new role as team physician for the Bluefish, he provides care for activity-goers of all ages and competitive levels who have been slowed by injury and pain.

“I am excited about serving the community and, now, the Bluefish with sports medicine care,” Dr. Kwok said. “This is an opportunity for me to combine my love for sports and my desire to help athletes return to activity.”

Dr. Kwok will be joined by other orthopaedic surgeons of Orthopaedic Specialty Group to ensure that the team has access to specialty care for all types of injuries. Most baseball-related injuries, such as sprains and strains, can be treated nonsurgically; other injuries, such as torn ligaments and cartilage, and some fractures, may require surgery at the practice’s Fairfield Surgical Center.
